

I have DLD (developmental language disorder) this means...

1. I may forget or misunderstand what you say or write.
2. I may find it hard to respond to questions and comments.
3. I may forget words and names.
4. I may find it hard to make conversation and talk in groups.

It helps if you....

1. Say less and pause more.
2. Use written bullet points and drawing to support what you say.
3. Give me more time to express what I want to say, to read and write.
